

Socialist • Feminist • Anti-racist

What we think:

- Capitalist society is inherently violent and exploitative, and must be abolished. The working class has the power to accomplish this.
- Battling oppression - including misogyny, racism, ableism, transphobia and homophobia - is at the heart of socialism.
- Resisting climate breakdown requires not just "new ideas" or technological fixes, but massive social struggle.
- Imperialism is at the heart of global capitalism and must be fought implacably.

What we do:

rs21 members are engaged in a wide variety of movements, including migrant solidarity, union organising, housing, anti-fascism, climate struggles, resistance to state repression, and international solidarity initiatives.

rs21 is run democratically by its members and has groups around the country. Local groups meet to develop ideas and plan activity. We work together and pool the experience gained in diverse areas of activity to arrive at clear and useful ideas about how modern capitalism works and how we can organise to resist and overturn it.

How to get involved:

- You can become a member online any time at rs21.org.uk/join
- Come to our local meetings. These are free and open to all.
- We run a website with news, analysis and theory - you can find it and read more from us at rs21.org.uk.
- Subscribe to our newsletter for updates.
- Follow us on social media - links and addresses are below.

WE ONLY WANT THE EARTH

6PM THURSDAY

23 SEPTEMBER

As climate campaigning ramps up towards the COP26 climate conference, with no expectation that governments will take the action required to avert climate breakdown, join this discussion introduced by Gus Woody, climate organiser, socialist and author of the forthcoming pamphlet 'We only want the earth: anti-capitalism against the climate crisis'.

What should socialists make of environmental breakdown? What should environmentalists make of socialism? And how can we stop the race to destruction?
